Data of Registered Students in the Higher Education Institutions of Macao
for the Academic Year 2015/2016

Explanatory Notes:

- I. The following data of registered students for the 2015/2016 academic year are accurate as of 31 October 2015.
- II. The 'academic year' used in this document refers to the school year, which generally starts on 1 September every year and ends on 31 August of the following year.
- III. Information on the previous academic years has been included in the last part of this document for reference purposes.
- IV. This document uses certain terms which have been briefly defined below:
 - (1) 'Registered students' refers to students who have completed the registration procedures and met all admission requirements.
 - (2) 'Local students' refers to students holding Macao resident identity cards. Non-holders are referred as 'non-local students'.
 - (3) Full-time programmes include day and evening programmes which are divided by academic years / semesters. The main lectures are given during the daytime or evening on weekdays, on a continuous, face-to-face basis.
- V. Certain figures are missing (indicated by '--') in some of the columns in the tables of this document for one of the following reasons:
 - (1) Lack of information.
 - (2) The category is not applicable to that institution.
 - (3) The relevant institution failed to provide the information.
- VI. Some of the percentages in the tables below have been rounded off to two decimal places, so the aggregate of some of the percentages may not add up to 100%.
- VII. The registered students referenced in this document have been categorized based on academic disciplines and majors. Using the 'International Standard Classification of Education' (ISCED) of UNESCO and taking the local higher education curriculum into consideration, the students have been categorized into 7 academic areas, with a number of majors under each area, which add up to 30 majors altogether.
- VIII. The data for the number of registered non-local students excludes students in programmes operated jointly by local higher education institutions and higher education institutions in Mainland China since the 2011/2012 academic year.
- IX. The abbreviations and expressions used in this document are only applicable here.

Data of Graduated Students from the Higher Education Institutions of Macao
for the Academic Year 2014/2015

Explanatory Notes:

- I. The following data of graduating students for the 2014/2015 academic year are accurate as of 31 October 2015.
- II. The 'academic year' used in this document refers to the school year, which generally starts on 1 September every year and ends on 31 August of the following year.
- III. Information on the previous academic years has been included in the last section of this document for reference purposes.
- IV. This document uses certain terms which have been briefly defined below:
 - (1) 'Registered students' refers to students who have completed the registration procedures and met all admission requirements.
 - (2) 'Local students' refers to students holding Macao resident identity cards. Non-holders are referred as 'non-local students'.
 - (3) Full-time programmes include day and evening programmes which are divided by academic years / semesters. The main lectures are given during the daytime or evening on weekdays, on a continuous, face-to-face basis.
- V. Certain figures are missing (indicated by '--') in some of the columns in the tables of this document for one of the following reasons:
 - (1) Lack of information.
 - (2) The category is not applicable to that institution.
 - (3) The relevant institution failed to provide the information.
- VI. Some of the percentages in the tables below have been rounded off to two decimal places, so the aggregate of some of the percentages may not add up to 100%.
- VII. The registered students referenced in this document have been categorized based on academic areas and majors. Using the 'International Standard Classification of Education' (ISCED) of UNESCO and taking the local higher education curriculum into consideration, the students have been categorized into 7 academic areas, with a certain number of majors under each area, which add up to 30 majors altogether.
- VIII. The data for the number of registered non-local students excludes students in programmes operated jointly by higher education institutions from Macao and higher education institutions in Mainland China since the 2010/2011 academic year.
- IX. The abbreviations and expressions used in this document are only applicable here.

Explanatory Notes:

- I. This category includes the registered students and the graduated students of the non-local higher education programmes, offered by 15 non-local higher education institutions, operated in Macao in 2015. The number of registered students and graduated students from non-local higher education programmes held in Macao in 2013 and 2014 has also been included for reference purposes.
- II. The figures provided in this section were provided by the corresponding non-local universities through the local co-organizers. These figures are accurate as of 31 December 2015 and the relevant data will be calculated on a 'yearly' basis. The calculation period for the data on the non-local higher education programmes that are carried out in Macao ran from 1 January 2015 to 31 December 2015.
- III. The following table contains the names of the programmes of higher education offered in Macao and their corresponding abbreviations:

Name of Programme	Abbreviation
Doctorates Degree Programme	PhD

- IV. The non-local higher education programmes operating in Macao in 2015 are part-time programmes. Unless otherwise specified, students who took these programmes were local students who hold Macao resident identity cards.
- V. Certain figures are missing (indicated by '--') in some of the columns in the tables of this document for one of the following reasons:
 - (1) No student.
 - (2) Lack of the relevant category.
 - (3) The item is not applicable.
- VI. According to the provisions of the 'Regulation of the People's Republic of China on Academic Degrees', those who have finished a 'master degree programme' or a 'bachelor degree programme' can be awarded a 'Graduation Certificate' and a 'Degree Certificate'. According to the provisions of the 'Provisional Regulation on the Management of Academic Certificates of Regular Higher Education', those who have finished a 'diploma programme' can only be awarded a 'Graduation Certificate'.
